

STEVE BELL

CANDIDATE FOR VICE PRESIDENT OF THE NATIONAL CONVENTION

14 February 2012

Steve Bell for Vice President of the National Convention

For me the importance of the forthcoming National Convention Elections cannot be underestimated in terms of how the Party will go forward in the years ahead. As one of the candidates for Vice President, I believe that you should have as much information about me as possible in order to make an informed decision as you cast your vote.

We as members need more bottom up and less top down direction, and we need to be a part of the decision making process - not just the ones who have to implement what others decide. The Voluntary Party needs to be put back into the hands of the Voluntary Party.

At a time when the Coalition Government is being brave and bold with the decisions that are right for the United Kingdom, we also should be brave at the Convention to ensure that we are fit for purpose and able to win outright in 2015.

As local leaders, you know what is best and what will work best where you live, which is so important for the victories we need in the lead up to 2015. My election pledges aim to give power back to the ordinary member of the party and answer the question of; what do our members get in return for being members of our Party?

On the reverse of this letter are my Pledges to you as a member and just as importantly to the members you represent.

Making the National Officers Accountable to You, the Voluntary Party
Putting the Party back in Party Conference
MERLIN Training and Support
Centralised Fundraising Letters
Voluntary Party Imprint

I hope by now that you will have received my election literature where it sets out my achievements so far as a member, like you, of the voluntary party. In addition to this I also want to highlight what I hope to achieve on the Party Board should you feel that you are able to entrust me with your vote.

Yours sincerely

Steve Bell
